

Wendy Birt is 27 years old and lives in Halifax, Nova Scotia. She has worked in the Public Relations & Development department at Maritime Divisional Headquarters for the past 6 years. Wendy grew up singing in churches all over the Maritimes with her family's southern gospel quartet, The Keynotes. For the past couple of years, she has been performing as a soloist with the Canadian Forces Stadacona Band, among other Halifax-based concert and brass bands. Wendy loves to mentor children, and currently directs an auditioned musical chorale group of girls in grades 3-6 from a local inner city school. Her other key interests include running, travelling and writing poetry.